Your name: Zhengfei Li

Group scores: 24

As a whole group, I feel that our group collaborate quite well. We adopt a mixture of face-to-face meeting and group chat communication, which I believe is a good way to both communicate thoroughly and timely. Also, every member of our group is always very diligent and eager to work on the project – on every “small task”, there is always a dynamic leadership, which really helps in keeping the project working smoothly.

Reflecting on myself, I feel myself being quite a helpful teammate by supporting my peer and constantly taking a lead on making the models and interpreting the models. Still, I think I can improve myself in the group work in terms of creativity – I hope in the future, I might take more time thinking about more creative ideas about research and solving research questions.

Notes and Comments for Sumin:

Sumin is exceptionally eager to learn and work in our group. She is always very curious about other people's opinion and very patiently and respectfully listening to others.

Sumin is also very careful with details. She could also always provide very decent feedbacks on others' idea, our report, and help us avoid pit falls on the first hand.

Sumin is also a calming figure in our group – she can always calm us down sometimes we might be agitated.

Notes and Comments for Malavika:

Malavika is our expertise about chess in our group. She gave us a lot of insights into different variables, which gave us a lot of ideas about how to make the models, how to interpret the coefficients, etc.

Also, Malavika demonstrates very extraordinary skills of organization. Sometimes when our discussion might turn messy, she could effectively turn our thoughts out of the mess. Really appreciate the way Malavika can always keep a clear plan in her head and guide our conversation so that we can stay on track.

Notes and Comments for Mackenzie:

Mackenzie is very creative: she gave us a lot of ideas about our possible research topic and she's also the main designer of the poster.

She's also very actively in helping finding solutions to some of the problems in our research. She found quite a lot of useful articles helping us understand chess and models.
